The Etcetera Theatre is a small, black box theatre with end-on raked seating. It seats 42 people and is fully equipped with sound and lighting equipment as well as a projector and an electric piano. There is a small dressing room leading directly onto the stage and although limited, it has storage space for props and costumes.

Like last year, we will have 5 slots a day, available 7 days a week which will be offered for a reduced hire fee (from £50) plus 30% of the ticket sales.

The Etcetera was the first venue to be part of the Camden Fringe and has been bursting at the seams each August since 2006. We're very broad minded about the types of shows that come here so whether you're into theatre, cabaret, performance art, comedy, puppetry and/or all of the above, we look forward to hearing from you!
