Moors Bar Theatre has been running for over 7 years. Set in the artistic hub that is Crouch End you never know who might pop in to see a show. We have had two of our productions transfer to the wonderful Park Theatre with whom we have an excellent relationship.

We first participated in the Camden Fringe in 2014. We have welcomed well over 20 companies and have seen some amazing productions.

The Moors Bar Theatre is owned and run by an actor who understands the stresses and complications of putting on a fringe production.

An advantage of this pub/theatre space is the fact that the theatre and bar are not split over different levels. When entering the bar you also enter the theatre. This allows you to set the atmosphere of your piece early on and gives audiences the feel of being part of the show which really works well.

Moors theatre will do its upmost to make your experience and production run as smoothly and successfully as possible.
