Upstairs at the Gatehouse is a 123 seat fringe theatre in Highgate Village at the northern end of the borough of Camden. Our artistic policy is to encourage new and young producers and directors especially those who want to stage revivals. Our core audience who live in the Highgate area are very happy to support the venue as long as they recognise the title or the author. Sowe are looking for revivals and traditional theatre, not stand-up comedy or sketch shows.

Along with producers and directors we also want to see new and young designers, musical directors, choreographers, lighting designers, stage managers etc.

As well as good reviews and memories of a stunning production we want theatre companies to go away with some box office revenue. Bring your commercial revival to The Gatehouse during the Camden Fringe. We will be happy to look at all proposals.
